

Larissa Taylor

I attended OCJH when it first opened and I loved it so much I decided to come back for more. I grew up in California, Salt Lake, and Lindon before heading to the University of Utah for college. I have a deep and abiding love for books, Disneyland, quirky novelty t-shirts, Diet Mountain Dew, my family, and Thor. I love teaching and am honored to work with the wonderful students, parents, and faculty at Oak Canyon Junior High.
